Louis started his career in the Navy Reserve on his 18th birthday, and he’s been in the Reserve for a little over 5 years. He joined the Reserve as an Aircrewman and he’s served 3 detachments (Note: each detachment is a 3-month rotation) to CENTCOM (Middle East), PACOM (Pacific), and CENTCOM (Middle East) again. Louis says being in the Navy Reserve, “is interesting because I’ve made the transition from military to civilian several times after coming off of long sets of orders.” However, Louis shares the culture of a college campus is vastly different from the military, so having something like the Veteran Students Organization (VSO) at UConn helps to bridge the culture gap.

Louis shares what he likes most about UConn “is the range of experiences you can find on-campus . . . One weekend the Veterans will do a ruck and the next weekend there will be a sheep shearing course (which I still haven’t had the pleasure of attending).”

If you would like to nominate a student, faculty, or staff member for “Veteran of the Month,” please contact Nikki Eberly at Nikki.eberly@uconn.edu with the name of the person and reasons for your nomination.
